Game Warden Field Notes

The following items are compiled from recent Texas Parks and Wildlife Department law enforcement reports.

--Too Fond of the Fawn-- A Bexar County game warden was called by Alamo security about a woman walking a white-tailed fawn on a leash. When she arrived on the scene, the warden questioned her about picking up the fawn on the side of the road. The woman claimed she came to the Alamo to take family photos. The game warden tried to explain the state law forbidding possession of game animals, but she would not listen and became very upset.

The fawn was seized and taken to a licensed Texas Parks and Wildlife rehabilitator and charges are pending. Tourists were educated at the Alamo about attempting to take game animals as pets.

--Illegal netting isn't easy-- While patrolling Willacy County, a game warden received an Operation Game Thief crime stopper call regarding three individuals who were possibly working a gill net within a public waterway on the west side of the county. After arriving at the location, the warden witnessed two exhausted individuals putting the final touches on a freshly set gill net. After a few minutes, the fishermen finally noticed they were being watched by a game warden and one of the individuals immediately said, “Well sir, I’m not going to deny it, you caught me.” The warden proceeded to inform the exhausted individuals that it was time to remove the illegal net from the water and receive citations. Cases are pending.

--Hooping it up-- A game warden was patrolling north Toledo Bend Reservoir during the long weekend when he noticed two individuals in a small boat with what appeared to be a hoop net, which is illegal for use in Texas waters.

The warden observed the subjects through his binoculars for a while as it appeared they were trying to find a location to place the net. The netters spotted the warden and attempted to flee, but were overtaken. Upon questioning, the subjects admitted to having already placed a hoop net in Texas waters and were cited for illegal means and methods. The case is pending.

--Fizzled Out-- Game wardens were patrolling the annual fireworks show on the Sabine River for water safety compliance. At the conclusion of the show, the wardens stopped a vessel for improper lighting. When the blue lights on the wardens’ boat were initiated, the subject would not stop his vessel and accelerated. Finally the wardens were able to get his attention to stop the vessel. The operator had an expired registration, one minor onboard was not wearing a personal floatation device and another was wearing a PFD improperly. The boat operator also exhibited signs of possible impairment and after failing a field sobriety test was arrested for boating while intoxicated. He also received a citation for child under 13 years of age not wearing a life jacket and multiple warnings. The case is pending.

--Time for Plan B-- A Real County game warden received a call near midnight from a ranch foreman about two kayakers who were stranded on the West Fork of the Frio River. The warden arrived on the scene and began visiting with the kayakers. They told him they put in around 4:30 p.m. and had only traveled approximately 6 miles. They told him they were planning to kayak to Concan. He advised them they were 25 miles from Concan by road. He also advised them to rethink their trip because they were going to have to drag their kayaks most of the trip due to the river being low because of the lack of rain. The warden took one of the kayakers back to their vehicle so they could load up their kayaks and come up with another plan. They were very thankful for the warden coming out so late to help them.

--A, B, C, D, B, W, I-- Travis County game wardens arrested two subjects for boating while intoxicated (BWI) on Lake Travis after observing the men switching driver’s seats. One of the wardens asked the original driver, who was wearing an ankle monitor, to recite his ABCs. After reciting a portion of the alphabet he stopped and was asked to continue, but stated, “No, I can’t actually.” This subject was placed under arrest for BWI. The second driver, who was already on probation for DWI, was hiding in the cabin of the boat and was subsequently arrested as well. The cases are pending.

--Pocketing the Evidence-- A Sabine County game warden was staking out an area known for illegal night hunting activity late one night when he got a call from a county sheriff’s deputy about a possible road hunter he was detaining following a traffic stop. The deputy advised he observed a rifle and a spotlight inside the vehicle, but the driver denied being involved in any night hunting activity. The warden proceeded to the deputy’s location a short distance away and upon questioning the driver, obtained a full confession of spot-lighting for hogs from a public road. Once the warden found evidence of the illegal activities - an empty rifle cartridge casing in the subject’s pocket -- he was able to make cases for hunting from a public road, hunting in closed season and discharging a firearm from a public road. The cases are pending.

--The Jail is This Way-- In the early morning hours, a game warden was waiting at a red light in Fort Stockton when a vehicle in the cross traffic came to a stop in front of his patrol unit. As the subject got out of his vehicle and began to approach, the warden ordered him to return to his car and get out of the roadway. The subject ignored the instructions and indicated he “just wanted directions.” The warden noticed multiple signs of possible intoxication, administered field sobriety tests, which the individual failed, and a guest-worthy dessert rich with natural ingredients and a lot of time comes to tradition, a few minutes? In less than 10 minutes, this world-class sandwich is ready to enjoy.

Sizzling Catfish sandwiches on a roll in less than 10 minutes and a cheesecake that is no longer a guilty indulgence!

Sundays are a staple for most of us, but it’s easy to get in a rut, making or ordering the same old thing. Why not break out of the boring routine with a Southern-style po’ boy stuffed with crispy-coated catfish and all the trimmings? In less than 10 minutes, this world-class sandwich is ready to enjoy.

Once you’re hooked on the mild, sweet flavor and convenience of catfish, you’ll want to keep a good thing going. Also try this versatile fish grilled or broiled with Cajun-style or jerk seasonings, in tacos and in chowder.

Catfish Po’Boys
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1 cup Italian-seasoned breadcrumbs
- 4 catfish fillets (about 6 ounces each)
- ½ cup chopped, roasted red pepper
- ½ cup prepared pesto sauce
- 8 lettuce leaves
- 8 oz. fat-free cream cheese
- Salt and pepper
- Toasted, French baguette

Dip each catfish fillet into egg, then into Italian-seasoned breadcrumbs, shaking off excess. In a large skillet, heat oil over medium-high heat. Cook the fillets, a few at a time, until golden brown and opaque in the center, 3 to 4 minutes on each side; drain on paper towels. Spread cut sides of the rolls with pesto. On bottom of rolls, layer roasted red peppers, lettuce leaves and provolone; top each with a catfish fillet. Place roll tops on fish and enjoy!

Light Citrus Cheesecake With Raisin Nut Crust

Crust:
- 1 cup Sun-Maid Golden Raisins
- 1 cup walnuts

Filling:
- ¾ cup sugar
- 2 (8-oz.) pkgs. fat-free cream cheese, softened
- 1 (6 oz.) container lemon or orange-flavored yogurt
- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- ½ cup grated lemon or orange peel

Instructions:
- Process 1 cup raisins and 1 cup walnuts on medium-high heat oil over medium-high heat. Cook the fillets, a few at a time, until golden brown and opaque in the center, 3 to 4 minutes on each side; drain on paper towels. Spread cut sides of the rolls with pesto. On bottom of rolls, layer roasted red peppers, lettuce leaves and provolone; top each with a catfish fillet. Place roll tops on fish and enjoy!

For the filling, in a large bowl, beat cream cheese until fluffy. Gradually beat in orange juice and 1 teaspoon grated lemon or orange peel. Stir in remaining ingredients and orange juice. Stir in 1½ cups raisins. Pour mixture into crust. Refrigerate for at least 2 hours or until set. Garnish with fruit and nuts.
